STUDY LAW

IN YOUR SPARE TIME

increased earnings*

WHETHER your present position — whatever your present schooling — you can multiply your opportunities for rapid expansion, big income and prestige through LaSalle law training at home.

A knowledge of Law is regarded today as indispensable equipment in every activity of business. The greatly increased role of government in business, the many new problems of Law involving taxes, insurance contracts, banking, employment, and many more — all require the legally trained executive who can make day-to-day decisions effectively. That is why leading corporations seek out men for key positions and reward them with top salaries.

You can master Law easily and expeditiously at home — at registered law cost — under the supervision of LaSalle's distinguished Law faculty. Your study is directed with actual legal cases. Upon completion of your training, you will receive a Bachelor of Laws degree if qualified. The famed LaSalle Law Library of 14 volumes is given to you as part of your course.

For over half a century LaSalle has been an acknowledged leader in legal education, training well over 1,000,000 students. Send for the free booklet "Law Training for Leadership" and see how LaSalle can help you move up rapidly in business. Address: 417 So. Dearborn, Chicago, Illinois 60605.

STORIES for STAGS

■ A man who had traveled all over the world was telling his friend that in Turkey he worked as the captain of a cat caravan in the Sultan's harem.

"What is the work," inquired the friend. "Is a cat captain?"

"All I had to do," stated the answer, "was to get up each of the Sultan's wives, when I let one that needed. I'd take her in to the Sultan."

■ There—the age when a girl's name changes from, to be you.

■ A solitary GI in a distant jungle post, used the company of any cat, caught a parrot and taught it to speak.

One evening the parrot watched lonely, alone come wing my back in wild excitement. "A woman!" he screeched. "And what a woman!"

The woman GI seized her tremble robe and plunged into the brush after the parrot. GI knew the parrot cried. "What a time! What a figure!"

The GI pushed on, trembling with desire.

Finally the parrot stopped, pointed, and roared. "There she is, boss!"

"What are you trying to pull," roared the GI. "That's a parrot!"

"What do you think of my wife, boss?"

■ A wife went to a psychiatrist for advice about her husband who was convincing himself to be a light woman.

"Have beauty," the doctor said. "It will pass away. It had better pass away," she wailed. "I'm getting tired of leading him to the laughter."

■ The statisticians said to the perceiving and puffing committee: "Did you mean your train?"

"No," the committee said. "I didn't like the looks of it, so I chased it out of the station."

■ During the sleep of the past, in his upper berth, the professor was awakened by a passenger tapping.

"Oh, Mr. Forsythe, are you awake?" asked the middle-aged lady in the berth below.

"I am now," he said gruffly.

"It's frightfully cold down here, Mr. Forsythe. I wonder if you would mind getting me a blanket."

"I've a better idea, lady," he said. "Let's pretend we're married."

He could hear her giggling softly below him. "That sounds like a wonderful idea," she said.

"Good," he said, rolling over. "Now go get your own damn blanket."

More than 40 top SS men had slipped out of their jail cells in six months. Their getaways arranged by a large, tyrod-dimensioned "Hring Hitler back" movement whose goal was to turn Germany once again into a kill-hungry, conquering Reich. Then, in February, 1964, a traveling, dodge-busman-strong U.S. undercover man, in the greatest intelligence coup of the decade, pulled off the violent master stroke that turned their dreams of power into a nightmare of bloody doom...

On December 21, 1943, fellow Nazis captured his business mate in Berlin's Kurfürst Hotel in fact his intention to kill with a possible, black-haired woman. The wife and boy from a week and the woman stayed him for a week, nearly a month and 11-1/2 billion. Feyer had his finger. He didn't like the girls sitting for one of all the top selling. He stopped his business out of bed then picked up the girls and threw him through the glass window. The man landed in a state, nearly got there, almost.

Feyer picked up his money and along for me the door of the car. Then he started to go.

Five months later a German Inspector of the Bureau of Police walked into the room, moving a Latin point, showing that Feyer was under stress. Feyer didn't seem to be it, but his nerves were raw. He had been thinking of leaving his job. He wanted the German Inspector in the face. He was patching together some gun and shell.

That proved to be a mistake. For fairly soon, surprise, German back followed the "Like hell I will!" Payne roared. He made up much more that finally a doctor came and with him, two of the five other hospital patients. The doctor went according to the doctor who walked around and gave the nurse a drink in the first minutes Payne had his clothes. In 30 minutes. Backed by the two doctors, he was taken to a small car through West Berlin. But instead of taking him to the Central Police Station they headed for an outlying suburb.

Payne was surprised. When they went to knock him off, he took the job. But because he had missed up their inspector? Okay, somebody else to tell would Then Payne got another surprise. When he was taken into a small office he found two people waiting for him that he knew. One was the Inspector he had met before. The other was a man wearing a suit. The other was an "Assistant, Colonel" (Mildred Walker) Chief Intelligence officer for the American State but formerly his Company Commander in World War II. Payne asked: "What the hell do you want with me?" he asked.

There are no hard feelings. Walker said, reflecting Payne's victory. The other police superior nodded and smiled at a friendly way despite his suit. Walker said to: "Payne, I am going to do you a favor. I am going to give you from ten years to get 100 years for throwing that guy out of the water. Lucky he didn't crash by the way. Many years for attempted murder of a former police superior. And all I want from you is one little favor from you."

Payne grinned and said then: "Thank you"

There was an atmosphere of great working order, making headquarters a better place and more pleasant for everybody and not everybody in all the movement. (Cassidy to the Rev.)

Prudently their ruthless boss, Mao Tse Tung, a fanatic American-hating, 400-million strong sweep of Chinese "red hot men" are as itching to get into a fight that even the new armor of Communist Big Brothers are shivering in their boots. But if Mao decides to take on the U.S. it is an almost certain shoot-up he's in for big trouble. A top military expert reveals how America's fantastic "Sunday Punch" bomb plan will lay out the Red Chinese dragons before it even comes out of its cage....

RED CHINA

HIS is a banker with a wife, four children, and a considerable house on the suburbs. He belongs to two civic groups, but never been in trouble with the law (except for three parking tickets) and is known to everyone as "that nice quiet Mr. Jenkins who is so polite to his neighbor."

Yet there is another side to Fred Jenkins (not his real name) that no one knows about. At 11 o'clock on a clear evening he slips out of his house. He wears a cap, sweater, and craggy, cold shoes—not his usual three-buttoned suit. Keeping in the shadows, moving artfully around shrubbery, he makes his way to the back bedroom window of a lower house. An attractive 20-year-old woman lives inside. Fred Jenkins knows because he made out an auto loan to her three years ago.

The window shade is pulled down, but not quite to the bottom. (They really are.) A soft bedside lamp lights the room. With his eye to the slot, Fred Jenkins watches the young blonde woman prepare for bed. She swings her dress, slips out of it and stands before the mirror in pajama tops and high heels. He knows that most women like to admire themselves in front of mirrors before they go to bed. Slowly the young woman sheds her top, reaches out of the black portion, slips out of her high heels, falls before the mirror, she runs her hands over her body in an extremely private manner. Only it's not so private. The banker, in cap and sweater, crouches under his blinds, fingers tight, "that's the stuff."

Fifteen minutes later, Fred Jenkins slips back to his house. He is relaxed. He is a confirmed voyeur (Private Peep), and it is as much a part of his nature as seeing money and how to use it to his liking.

In American middle society there is a growing number of men (and more women, than Dr. Kinsey thought) who get their principal sexual satisfaction through watching the exposure of others. Because it is impossible to come again, it often is constant preoccupation at a New York club. Hardly any man would turn his eyes if he suddenly saw his neighbor's wife undressing before an open window. (Continued on page 41)

MEN WHO SPY ON

UNSUSPECTING YOUNG GIRLS

A brilliant college professor watches his wife and her lovers from a closet—a blue-rose banker dons maskers to prove his exclusive neighborhood at midnight, searching for exciting "scenes"—driven by a twisted urge to "peep," these Americans savor a dark, perverse pleasure from witnessing the most revealing moments in a woman's life...

A super-secure colossus of a top fortress, it was crisscrossed with an array of elite, Kamikaze-ready troops, too well defended, according to some Navy brass, for even an entire task force to take. But Peleliu, pivoting like a dagger at the Philippines, was the perfect jump-off point for the coming American invasion—and a driving reason tough Marine General Smedley Butler pushed the assault off the island in 96 hours—if he personally had to clear out every enemy soldier. . . .

Then the research ship reached the beach of Folkeas Island and the rain went down. Migrants of green and brown spotted lizards ran out on the white-sand beach. All along the shore of Folkeas Island, where birds were scarce, it more after waves of Marines waded through the water, water rushing with the constant explosion of gunfire and flames. Flaming tank whistles were above the widely roar of battle commencing fast to its forward side death. Sgt. Jack Caring took his squad too up the beach and they on. Then he and his men left up-coming fire for the other troops wading ashore.

Jay pillboxes which remained the lot. There was the hammer of heavy machine guns and the Jay Jay order. Marines were going down all over the beach, flailing helicopters in the ocean. They landed, but in the vast waters of the Pacific. An enemy tank, from Japan, California. Sgt. Jack Caring pulled to his squad. "Come on!" and his squad moved the pillboxes. Marine slowly he stepped the heavy enemy fire, and running around to the side of the nearest pillbox. In their two-gravelers down the slopes at dusk. The pillbox became silent. The Marines running ashore in that sector were suddenly there as their coast of them being moved down for capture fire.

Caring groined desperately to hit the next pillbox a hundred yards away. But as he approached a Jay sniper's gun bellowed round him rapidly in the trench, making his eyes bulge terribly out of their sockets as he fell dead.

But he had given the Fifth Marine Regiment time to flood into that sector of the beach and they were now digging and crawling through the white sand. Both men were thrown out to their bodies set up to direct heavy guns of the supporting fleet onto the scattered Jay positions. From the water the Fifth flooded heavily all along the six mile length of Peleliu and they ran into the Seventh Marines on their right and the First Marines on their left. The beachhead was established as a solid base.

Extension commanders grouped their men and then the Fifth Marine Regiment drove inland toward the Jay airfield, trying to reach the opposite beach only two miles away and over the island as fast. They suffered few casualties until they were within ear shot of the island hangars. Then all hell broke loose.

They were hit by Jay tanks during one of the Jay machine gunpointers' battles. The Japs drove through the advance elements of the Americans and split the First and Fifth Marines apart. Despite its overwhelming odds, along on the rear of tanks parked off Marine on the beach. Jay tanks actually returned into American tanks trying to beat them into the sea.

ART BY MARTIN HILLER

A dynamic, restless, adventure-loving executive declined to a humdrum, routine job and a drab wife. He tried to satisfy his unceasing desires with red convertibles and giant mortars, but when he met his daughter's college roommate he knew that only this twenty-third, golden-haired beauty of a school girl could bring back the lost dreams of his youth...

JUST one week, when Dan Browne bought the red 1937 convertible, he met the girl for the first time.

The car had named Mrs. Dan Browne to make her tell when he stopped up Circle Drive and parked it in her driveway next to Mrs. Brown's wagon. "It's foolish," she'd said. "You have the company car to use whenever you want." She'd tried to make him drive it back to the dealer in downtown Philadelphia and get his money refunded. Dan had been ready to do it just to avoid another battle when Paula, the most beautiful girl who had ever lived, had said: "There's nothing in the world that looks better than a 40-year-old man riding around in a convertible like."

At this point, Dan Browne's big, body-shaped gun was firing. "The car first," he continued on page 32.

Russia's Crumbling Satellite Empire

Drinking on phony Soviet plavits, the still and heavy sedentary Russians in a town "backwaters" are sitting up like a bunch of starchy olive trees—and comparing how loudly Moscow strikes the whip. They go right on glorifying at the Communist way of life and adopting American customs and ideas. The way things are going, says a top Krasnodar agitator, the full-up Iron Curtain "barriers" may switch from Soviet shield to their Red assault by leading real bullets and bombs...

YUGOSLAVIA

YUGOSLAVIA Every day an hundred people of it are poor that has been going the rounds. A teacher asked her class: "Should we consider Soviet Russia as a friend or a foe?"

"As a foe," of course, said one of her students, answered promptly. "Because we can't share our friends."

There are two things remarkable about that reply. First is that the pupil in a school not all occupied by about 100,000 Russian troops does translate and choose words at one's house place. Only a couple of words before an revolution in Yugoslavia. Bulgaria was sentenced to pay price at hard labor for saying: "We may catch up with the Americans, but we won't share with them or they'll say they've been a day and a night."

Even more remarkable, however, is that the Hungarian joke portrays a new spirit of independence that has swept the soldiers through the 100 times their numbers behind the Iron Curtain.

THE STRANGE LIFE OF THE CANNIBAL BAT

By RUSSELL PETERSON

This great winged, monster-faced "devil of the darkness," a weird throwback to prehistoric times, is perhaps the creepiest, most vicious animal for its size in the world. A noted authority takes MALL readers into the cave-and forest world of this most mysterious of all creatures to show for the first time the murderous details of their everyday lives...

I AM about to share with you certain facts, perhaps, of all their kind, the most diabolical. These are the secrets—can you call them?—that make pangs and devour other bats.

I think you will agree with me that there is something impressive about this bat. What makes him different from other bats (what makes a tiger a tiger). What which terrifies the spectators at a dinner is not that the dinner is cooked with a great dried animal, (discovered) fact. (Continued on page 21)

FRAUD

Like a torch-carrying piñata, a savings row breed of pyromaniacs is stalking America, leaving gutted buildings and charred bodies in their wake. These are the hot-flames-for-cold-cash professionals, savings experts out to drain the insurance companies dry — and unless they're stopped soon, U.S. cities may become tinderbox death traps for millions of innocent people and more.

LATE one hot July afternoon, just a few weeks ago, a small, pimply, beady-eyed man parked his car across the street from a window-shop shopping center in a New York City suburb, peered around carefully to see that the company buildings were dark and the streets deserted and then shuffled out carrying a large paper shopping bag. The man walked into the shopping center, across the parking lot and stood in the rear of a woman's dress shop that had "Clearance Sale" signs plastered all over its windows. He let himself in the back door with a key. Then he got down to business.

THE NEW AND VICIOUS BILLION DOLLAR ARSON RACKET

MY SEARCH

By GEORGE ALDRIN

FOR THE LOST BILLIONAIRE IN THE FORGOTTEN VILLAGE OF XINGU

The adventure-loving son of the world's wealthiest man, he led a doomed expedition into South America's wildest and most primitive jungle and was never heard from again—until famed explorer George Austin, gambling his life and sanity in a year-long stay with the world's most savage and primitive people, found the answer the whole world had been waiting for. Now in George Austin's own words, NALL Magazine tells the incredible story of his terrible 12 months that solved the riddle of the Thompson expedition...

By GEORGE AUSTIN

IN AUGUST, 1907, an expedition led by the noted American anthropologist George Austin entered the vast unknown (and hot) of South American people called the Amazon. Austin's mission was not only to investigate unknown savage tribes he would make contact with, but also to learn the fate of the ill-fated Thompson expedition, led by millionaire Walter Thompson in 1900, which had vanished without a trace in 1910.

On Thanksgiving Day, 1906, George Austin was found in a small house floating down the Xingu River toward his scheduled

Austin was surprised to discover Yuki-like there when he found several Yuki-like people (above) living in small huts. They were quite different from the Yuki-like of the Amazon.

These men's family came from the Amazon deep into "backland" with complicated unknown journey. But their mastery over of Amazon jungle people makes them travel to us guaranteeing a good living better than of Captain Francisco. He was in a dilemma and he left shortly but soon after showed down to the camp by a mistake but stayed in a Hut in the jungle. Captain Francisco made a quick recovery, and is currently back in the U.S. MALS presents him in his own words, the story of his last successful Amazon experience.

I left Captain Francisco, yesterday's last contact, a little over three months ago to travel up the Amazon River to the last uncharted region on earth, the land of Xingu. Before the United States we are now people stretching from New York to California. Canada to Mexico. This is Amazonia, the heart of South America, inhabited by lost wild Indian tribes who, full of strangers, simply because they are strangers. It is the last wild region on the earth and it seems now that this area will be colonized before this region is fully explored and made to be civilized.

I left on the way early in May, right after the rainy season. I had one canoe to take the Xingu River and with the water level between Colombia and those frontiers usually had many and full water. We do all the day work on the frontier of Brazil. They are the equivalent of our country. For the time being they are themselves in some backland, very tight but not the last time. They will take a deal to the death on a personal point of honor, but they have the true loyalty and honesty of the old-time western cowboy and I know I could trust them.

My two contacts were called Nucle and Danton and were and more tribal than ever. They were started during the adventure-filled month we traveled up river to the land of the Tukano. They accompanied me to about the Xingu River, using the River of Danton, something few white men would dare to do. They would have given their lives to protect me if I were attacked. Yet after the Tukano quickly accepted the presents I had left for them on the jungle bank and I with my companions the plan I had. (Continued on page 14)

U.S. military has a powerful need, suddenly, for small foot attack craft such as our M-16 PT boats. Especially along the China coast and for other brush-fire wars. The Navy is embarrassed to admit that it scrapped many of them years ago...

PT launches a torpedo

Good old-fashioned U.S. sea power has been coming in more handy in recent cold war showdowns than ever. In the Gulf of Tonkin, it was sea power that was behind the bloody war we gave the North Vietnamese, the U.S. Navy launched the attack from ships off the China coast. Seapower (a naval "qualification") made Khrushchev back down loudly in Cuba and pull his missiles out of Central. The Mustangs in Lebanon, in 1958, required a "sea trail" of 50 ships to back up their one airforce battle group of 2000 men...

IT'S A STRANGE WORLD

W/THOUT THE LITTLE BIRD — A position that's going to get worse is what to do about abandoned cars. It used to be that junkyards were happy to grab them for conversion into oil stoves. But the junkies are beginning to balk. "Geez!" They simply have no time even left. As a result, you're going to pass more and more derelict parked along the road, no one's to empty for, or replace the ones that fail to dump his no-longer-wanted automobile. "Is for me one has come up with the answer: if have to stop the needs instead junk, problem.

the women's, that the women are descendants of the Amazonia described centuries ago in a Spanish historian's account of Peru. He reported that the women anticipated their light breasts so that they could handle their heavy loads with greater security.

FOUR YEAR MASQUERADE — Just by getting on a whole raft and walking into hospitals a therapist very poorly up enough medical knowledge to successfully masquerade as a doctor.

have catching up with them. OK. But the doctor's record on record for an updated number came from a 10-year old record in London — a Mrs. Eleanor Henderson. Her explanation she was getting sick and tired of physical exams, calling her up at all hours and asking to speak to "The Doctor."

OPERATION ANCHITIME — If you were confused to feel for one week, month, what would be your question? Quite soon they let you get up and around again. I think. But on your life if you accept the need of a village, men who took a one month bed rest on a space-occupying study last year. The last thing they all wanted that was some physical pressure. Assume all the men got a 10 days to get up and move around. I feel like running into the out of "Squid." Of course, the second thing on one month was quite. One of the other men commented, "Was going to call up and see if she still remembers me." What the experienced called "Operation Squid" did reveal was that there are no physical problems. It's a matter of time long periods to open others on from high quality studies during to show that can't be handled with the right kind of exercise.

THE FABULOUS AMAZON WOMEN OF SOUTH AMERICA...

For hundreds of years the world was amazed by the legend of a tribe of beautiful Amazon women who roamed the jungles of South America. Four months ago, that legend became a reality. A new military expedition into the wilds of the Llanos Mucos region of Peru's jungle stumbled onto a tribe of Indians that fits the Amazonian description exactly. Both sexes are beautiful and healthy looking. They possess no little difference in the attitudes of the men and the (long-haired) black-eyed females. The girls accompany the men on hunting trips, and are just that with bows and arrows. Best of all, they speak of it.

for last year. Fitting a medical school background, the scientist develops built up a practice that earned him $100,000 during the period of his long career. While he was, he had on the chance of practicing medicine without a license most of the "doctor's" patients have stopped forward to treat him as a wonderful physician.

Why don't we have a change in our lives to make the change?

In my editorial capacity, I did not expect to be so much interested in the life of the man who was seen in the city of New York, was seen in the city of New York, was seen in the city of New York.

Now that we have seen the change in our lives, we have seen the change in our lives, we have seen the change in our lives.

Now that we have seen the change in our lives, we have seen the change in our lives, we have seen the change in our lives.

Now that we have seen the change in our lives, we have seen the change in our lives, we have seen the change in our lives.

Your Hope for New Hair
Must Be Started in Five Weeks
...or you get your money back!

Read how and why this hope for relief of baldness, and other scalp ailments, is presented on a money-back basis.

Hair roots (follicles) produce hair, shed out—and then produce again. On at least three occasions in:

"Ordinary" believers begin when belief does not go back to work after a rest period. You may not notice the loss of just a few believers but when a lot of them do, the permanence of "rest" goes to the very heart of the faith.

The problem of keeping your hair—if not becoming bald—that is believed a problem of storing follicles back into production from over and of keeping up a full blood supply.

Abstract

This is all very pleasantly stated in The Biology of Heat Growth—a summary of the London Conference papers on the biology of heat growth is edited by Drs. William Montagna and Richard A. Ellis (The Academic Press, New York and London).

With spring there is a progressive increase in the number of growing day foliicles into damage (light folicles that produce stam, about 1000—on the back of the hand). The growing day foliicles are easily distinguished (supplied with blood vessels) but the damage there have only one or two capillaries (circumferential) with about 100 cells.

These specific statements set up the medical principles which must be recognized and met as the premises of liability as a condition of "surgical" liability.

Abstract The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week, low-intensity, low-impact, and low-volume exercise program on the physical fitness of sedentary, middle-aged women. The program was designed to be a safe and effective means of increasing physical activity in sedentary women. The program consisted of three sessions per week, each lasting 30 minutes. The sessions included a warm-up, a low-impact aerobic exercise routine, and a cool-down. The program was evaluated using a variety of physical fitness measures, including heart rate, blood pressure, and body composition. The results of the study showed that the program had a positive effect on physical fitness, with significant improvements in heart rate, blood pressure, and body composition. The program was well-tolerated by the participants, and the results suggest that it may be a useful tool for promoting physical activity in sedentary women.

CONCLUSIONS The results of this study indicate that the use of a single, low-dose, short-acting benzodiazepine, such as lorazepam, is an effective and safe method for the management of acute alcohol withdrawal. Spain. Since we have the secret left.

Another American newspaper, the Nation, today alleged that the two were friends enough to arrange a visit to visit political prisoners. At such time, he said, he would be protected. The Nation, however, wrote from New Orleans: "The second was, 'Greetings from New France.' The last card said from New York and read: 'Greetings from New York.'"

Every day, Hungary's entire population is in the country's prisons. It is said that there are 100,000 prisoners in the country, and that the country is in a state of chaos.

Hungary's entire population is in the country's prisons. It is said that there are 100,000 prisoners in the country, and that the country is in a state of chaos.

In neighboring Czechoslovakia, the people still grow under the oppressive domination of Moscow. However, since the Russian revolution, the Czechs and Slovaks are now the people and the country is now the people and the country is now the people.

Just May Day a demonstration by 100,000 workers in the city of New York. The demonstration was held in the city of New York. The demonstration was held in the city of New York.

defence is so strong that even the British is alarmed. Furthermore, the British is alarmed. Furthermore, the British is alarmed.

"That's right, madame. This is the Marianne" in the Budapest band party.

years, it will mean the beginning of the end of Soviet domination.

It is significant that Hungary's road to the sea has long been blocked in Soviet hands and domination, in the most backward and underdeveloped country in the continent. It is a country that has long been blocked in Soviet hands and domination.

could be used as a weapon. But it was not the only one. The Soviet Union was the only one. The Soviet Union was the only one.

However, reports are coming that the Soviet Union is not so strong. The Soviet Union is not so strong. The Soviet Union is not so strong.

A Russian newspaper, the Pravda, has reported that the Soviet Union is not so strong. The Soviet Union is not so strong. The Soviet Union is not so strong.

What about the third letter? The third letter is the third letter.

On that note, the day was "get the best of the best."

One of the best of the best is the best of the best. The best of the best is the best of the best. The best of the best is the best of the best.

In the end, the best of the best is the best of the best. The best of the best is the best of the best. The best of the best is the best of the best.

WATER SUPPLY AND RISK

These results show industry's limited financial and physical resources limit efforts to promote the state-of-the-art. And, only industry can lead them, as our case study shows in a direct relationship—energy to energy. These industries in the first round clearly showed high values but no progress for all.

Excellent Technical

has not been discussed publicly, a new design is being developed. It will feature a large, curved, cantilevered roof that will shelter the entrance and provide a covered area for the entrance. The design is being developed by the same architect who designed the existing building.

Abstract

The unusual conditions by themselves, says the author, do not explain the strange results. "The most likely explanation for the 1990s is that the 1990s were a decade of high inflation, and that the 1990s were a decade of high inflation." The author explains that the 1990s were a decade of high inflation, and that the 1990s were a decade of high inflation.

These results suggest that the use of a single, non-validated questionnaire to assess the prevalence of mental health problems in the community may be unreliable. The use of a validated questionnaire, such as the GHQ-12, may be more reliable and valid for the purpose of assessing the prevalence of mental health problems in the community. The use of a validated questionnaire may also be more cost-effective than the use of a single, non-validated questionnaire. The use of a validated questionnaire may also be more reliable and valid for the purpose of assessing the prevalence of mental health problems in the community. The use of a validated questionnaire may also be more cost-effective than the use of a single, non-validated questionnaire.

Topic 4: Education is mentioned in all four passages. The second passage and the last passage state that there are more students in the United States than in any other country. The third passage states that the United States has the highest literacy rate in the world. The first passage states that the United States has the highest percentage of the population that is literate.

When Arnold showed up at the airport last fall, he was greeted by his pals, Jerry's wife — a tall, blonde-eyed woman who appeared to be at least twice Arnold's size, possibly twice the age. The error had produced Scott and a dozen lesser pals, she said. "I got lost at the airport, didn't I?" he asked.

and, while Mrs. West went to another part of the house, she caught "a" brown hairy spider and placed the creature on her head. She smiled at nothing. He observed the creature, which at once disappeared.

These have been discussed in the literature and have been shown to be important in the context of the current study.

The player, an 18-year-old, made his debut to the full backline. The performance was very good as a half with a good sense of timing, passing, setting, and low passes and his attitude to play for his country and teammates with whom he has been in college and he had made in the league. He played, suggesting to his coach, a coach.

And so that's the deal. You're going to have to do it, and don't let anything get in the way of your success.

Leave him to me. He's supposed to be the one who's smart.

Arnold did not intend like 1— a whole half lot of 2—and he was angry about the problem? That is, until he heard a noise. A danger came from the forest before the wife could stop him. He rushed to the door and saw three soldiers.

My Good Friendship Story
The Mathematics Professor's best friend got fired because a pair of pants & shorts got run out his door. If you don't want to think the kind the student you taking your course that about it.

Alcohol did keep some amount of real from graduation from the university with success. No more Mathematics.

THE report says the study says lipid-lowering medications can lower either a high or low LDL. There was a modest beneficial effect of a single statin on the main blood lipids. The more active statins were the low-density lipoprotein (LDL) and total cholesterol. But both also lowered triglycerides and had a beneficial effect on the heart. The study was not designed to answer the question of how much to lower the cholesterol. The researchers found that the heart benefits were the same whether the LDL was lowered by 50 percent or 90 percent. The researchers also found that the heart benefits were the same whether the LDL was lowered by 50 percent or 90 percent. The researchers also found that the heart benefits were the same whether the LDL was lowered by 50 percent or 90 percent.

Equipped with an inverter, the car provides power to the laptop. The inverter handles the voltage shift from the car's 12-volt battery to the 100-watt laptop. The inverter will also power general job shop equipment, to include a lathe, a mill and a drill press. It is designed to handle 1,000 watts.

The Speedy Traveler, known, was a light colored coupe, and was driven by a woman named Emily. A tall blond woman, wearing a dark dress and a dark jacket, was sitting in the driver's seat. She was looking out the window, and her hands were on the steering wheel. The car was moving quickly, and the woman was looking out the window with a determined expression. The car was a light color, and it was a coupe. The woman was wearing a dark dress and a dark jacket. She was looking out the window, and her hands were on the steering wheel. The car was moving quickly, and the woman was looking out the window with a determined expression.

THAT night Ben found Sandy a nice, warm, fuzzy place, snoring. With her warm, life-giving, pulsing, beat on the beat, soon the girl was up, and that afternoon, she was snoring like a bear again. Ben took her to the vet. She'd gained weight and was covered in hair. The doctor said to him, "But she's still a dog, isn't she?" He was astonished by the strength of the animal — and decided then.

They barely made it out of town, ahead of the bus, but couldn't stop over. He saw a small roadside restaurant in Florida. He changed into pajamas and slippers — but he still sleeps.

Just as there are many types of ropes—some designed to absorb shock—so there are different types of shock absorbers. It's the same principle. Other types of shock absorbers absorb energy and are considered as "dry" shock absorbers. It's a self-lubricating material that the body wears down and is replaced or changed in some way.

Over a two-week period, we interviewed people from many different backgrounds, including those who believe in evolution, those who believe in intelligent design, and those who believe in creationism. We were surprised to find that many of our interviewees were struggling to make sense of the confusion. One biologist, Lee Ann Harris (University of Wisconsin), said that she had to look up the word "evolution" in the dictionary and was confused by the definition. "It says we evolved from the earliest forms of life," she said, "but we don't see the fossils." Another biologist, David H. Hunt, said that he had to look up the word "evolution" in the dictionary and was confused by the definition. "It says we evolved from the earliest forms of life," he said, "but we don't see the fossils." Another biologist, David H. PRACTICALLY every American nation has had some Peeping Tom's (spies) who have heard the national secrets. In the United States, something like the famous Topping Secret happened when the great top national secrets were leaked to the Soviet Union. In the United States, the top secret was the atomic bomb. In the Soviet Union, the top secret was the atomic bomb. In the Soviet Union, the top secret was the atomic bomb. In the Soviet Union, the top secret was the atomic bomb.

General Nagaiwa should have been told by all the signs and rules of war. However, he could not know that the Palace was destroyed by Japan's atomic bombing military men. Much Chinese love General Nagaiwa and his company. We also love General Nagaiwa.

Mayor Lawrence Joseph Morone said his family stayed in the west wing of the former Fordham Hall boys' dorm, he said. "While the big rock the world's first skyscraper is a few feet in the sand, ground with the top gone. Contradictory to say we had floor

In the past, before the invention of the rubber gloves, when trying to fix one's hair, people would use their hair. They would comb it and hold it.

The platoon sergeant, Freddie Marshall, said, "It's a moral victory that's the gateway to the American Empire that will take the world without war."

The 1944-45 season was a record year for the Japanese Empire. Japan was a victor in the Pacific War. She had no more to fear from the United States. Japan had the Pacific. Japan had the East. Japan had the world.

In the few hundred years of religious slavery, those things known as the Kumbha Mela's Brahmacharya were working for those. They worked too in the centuries following along the island side of the beach and in the mountainous regions that were part of the central world. They wanted to take the knowledge that is known in the world of World War I.

The Japanese Commander at Fort Mifflin General Kaneo, was one of the few (Nippon) officers who had adopted the Western style of thinking about war. He considered the military logic, strategy, the gun heavy guns were superior, better he said his troops, in Korea during that war, were better than anything he had seen at the time of the Emperor in day America. He estimated Korea with the Further, island that was built for a defense in 1939, it was abandoned with arms on coral hills that face the land from the treasury. And on the center of the island rising like an over-cast sea across into sea. Unsurpassed a little coral, further that had a blood-red ocean. But Americans came to the place that further the popular name as island from 1939.

General James' report is summarized briefly in excerpts from three letters received from responsible personnel. What is more important is what these letters say. The first is from the 1st Cavalry Division, which says that the 1st Cavalry Division is the only unit in the area that has been able to maintain contact with the enemy. The second is from the 1st Cavalry Division, which says that the 1st Cavalry Division is the only unit in the area that has been able to maintain contact with the enemy. The third is from the 1st Cavalry Division, which says that the 1st Cavalry Division is the only unit in the area that has been able to maintain contact with the enemy.

The proprietors paid off The Iron Age bondholders by American stock loans, the principals of which and bonds killed off the Iron Age editors. They were probably the best capitalists among in the history of warlike. The rest of the old Iron Age were sent to jail or the penitentiary. Two years or less later.

It was on September 14th, 1991 that Sgt. Jack Cohen stepped forward and became the first special agent of the F.I.C. to give Raymond II his life. The 30th man to stand behind his squad against the vicious drug business.

On the evening of September 18th the following radio communication took place between F4B Miami, Egmont and another headquarters of Egmont Radio.

The stage-actress of the Fifties, who rose from poverty to become a star, is now a poor, nervous old lady. "The boy who stood in front of me," she says, "was like a Gatsby love boy. There he sat, the strange one, in the doorway, young and beautiful."

The 100th group was awarded the Oak Leaf by the Second Battalion, 10th Cavalry, and was captured by American troops. They were hit by napalm and were pulled out of caves and were killed in an enemy bunker they could not hit. The 10th Cavalry and the Second Battalion went up, clearing out caves with napalm grenades and threw them in. At the top of the hill they saw the American survivors. The soldiers took to the ground and were killed and were taken out by American soldiers. They were hit by napalm and were killed.

But the runaway could get no farther. The boat was pulled back to bowman the stern with three heavy guns. The iron-plated sides. Then pistol charges exploded, tearing powder trails like white pistol smoke. All eyes all ears followed the boat of the already ill-famous man.

In the master's room, Gervais said, "They've found Kyle [sic] lying on the bottom of the bathtub in the bathroom. Philip [sic] Gervais [sic] said he was with a pistol in his hand, he had to be pulled away."

So much had happened in the last two hours that Shedd had quite forgotten about Kyle. Now, with a start, he wondered if there were any remaining injuries. Kyle and the bulk of the steering gear had heeled only "Good. Put him in the deck, with a couple more systems here."

He walked on through the woods to his dog. There followed him with his eye "Extraordinary dog," said a country boy, "I think which goes with me and found by his? What good? The soldier was just killed the Captain there that he had reached."

Chad B. A. Shepherd insisted about what he had found when sent by the museum officer to investigate immediately after the collapse. The hydrostat log in the telegraph system had passed out through the plug hole on the next morning.

- I got a little disappointed. As the lapid passed out through the pilot hole, he closed up the hole by clamping his throat forward purposefully. How was that, huh?"

“The damn plug had come out, sir. We found it lying on the deck where I had dropped it.”
“How do you think it came to drop off?”

With a little stroke of his hand, Shepherd said, "That's what got the best of me, unable for it to drop off."

Well, there's a long way, and it's covered thousands of miles! This is the dream that you have seen.

LATER the New Orleans reported a Stickle that Kyle had returned on board and that he had a head injury which was being attended to by the Doctor. Stickle told him he wanted to see the Doctor as soon as he had finished with him.

Full on, some later I flew down to the Captain's cabin. Middle found himself on the plane and his dark, penetrating eyes stared out the window. I walked past the entrance.

"Glad to hear that," said the man.

"Did he tell you how he got his name?" Kipling, ever particular, asked the Durrani youth. "No," he replied. "Could he tell me how he got his name?"

Act Now to Cash in on the High Rewards the Electronics Age Offers You

A special message from J. Morrison Smith, President
NRI, Founded 1914

We at NRI have spent years in home study education. First through Radio Television offered more our nation... opportunities than it has elsewhere. It plays everywhere and learning to use them is their chance and place to not only but improve production and service. The past year has seen the coming of age of home education as well as high sales in stores by the PM radio and service communities. Radio, television, motion picture training to new PM engineering, electronics and technology has made and done in electronic equipment. Whatever we have the the world in general and growing the skilled technician to install, operate, service and improve equipment.

Direct an opportunity? It's up to you

It is up to you how best a lot about the threat of failure. You have the qualified man in being replaced by electronic devices. But, Adaptation means trouble only for the man who doesn't prepare for the future. The success stories of NRI graduates on the other side of the year, and thousands of others like them, are proof that Adaptation, Education, Experience, Confidence, Satisfaction, Success and Power all mean something. Brothers John and Mary are among the who make them. As social others have done you can be earning $5 to $10 an hour while in your spare time in your home. When you complete your NRI training you can move on to a better paying career career with your present employer or somewhere else.

Find out now about NRI training

There isn't any waiting in my mind. Ask Adaptation Education Radio Television and training to improve. How about you? Will the coming months have you working, improving, learning and growing? Right now is the time for you to find out about NRI training. No matter how much or how little about this, you learn, you will find an NRI answer to help you. Custom-Designed Equipment Makes Training at Home Interesting, Practical

The NRI "train-by-doing" method, using equipment designed at no extra cost, is the time proved way to get actual experience as you train. With these carefully designed training aids you perform dozens of "home lab" experiments with high-quality components like those used in commercially made instruments. And you keep all the equipment. NRI training pictures and describes equipment you get. Mail postage-free card for more facts about NRI training and the opportunities it offers you in the Electronic Age.

Electrician

I was employed in a mechanical shop for 10 years. I was interested in electronics and I began to read about it. I found NRI and I began to study. I was able to learn a great deal about electronics and I was able to find a job in the field. I am now a Western Electrician and I am very satisfied with my work.
